INCLEMENT WEATHER

CTFB will be operating with a delayed opening tomorrow morning. Our plan for agencies that placed orders for this week is as follows:

- Our staff will start building orders placed for Wednesday & Thursday to be delivered/picked-up on Friday.
- CTFB will re-open for Tuesday agency pick-ups and Shop For at our dock tomorrow at 12:00pm. We will deliver all Tuesday rescheduled orders tomorrow.
- Wednesday & Thursday pick-up and deliveries orders will be moved to Friday 2/3.
- We will resume normal operations on Friday 2/3.
- If you would like to cancel your order this week, please email agencies@centraltexasfoodbank.org with your request ASAP.

We anticipate an influx of food donations that will result in an abundance of fresh produce and bread/pastries! We need your help with getting this healthy food to families so we encourage you to host one-time produce distributions toward the end of this week. If you are interested in receiving a delivery of this product or a supplemental agency order, please fill out this form. Additional orders may be delivered Thursday 2/2-Saturday 2/4 as capacity allows.

We are excited to get back to normal operations, but want to ensure our Partners have what they need to serve families - Stay warm, stay safe!
